DEATH CALLS

G. E. JOBE

MONDAY

Cedarville township lost one of her most valuable citizens Monday when Mr. G. E. Jobe died at the McClellan hospital in Xenia at 5:15 o'clock, af-

The deceased was the son of the late John Jobe. He was 66 years of age and was born on the Jobe farm on the Jamestown and Xenia pike. Mr. Jobe located in Cedarville township a number of years ago and was regarded one of our leading far-and during the life of the State Experimental Board and State Board of Agriculture, served with credit to himself and the state. He was a member of the Selma Board of Education for some years. He also served for several years as a director of the Exchange Bank of Cedarville. Mr. Jobe was a conscientious Christian in all his dealings and was a devoted and untiring worker in the United Presbyterian church where he served as an Elder for a number of years. His death was a sad loss to the community.

Besides his widow, Mrs. Alta Corry Jobe, whom he married 37 years ago,

He leaves three sons, Oliver of this place; Delmer, who resides on the farm; and Dr. Mereld Jobe, Boston. Mrs. Mary Taylor Nelson, wife of Mr. George Nelson, London, was reared in the Jobe home. Mr. C. L. Jobe, Xenia, prominent merchant, is the last surviving member of the family.

The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon from the U. P. church at 1:30. Rev. R. A. Jamieson was in charge of the services, assisted by Dr. M. C. ...

SLEET CAUSES MUCH DAMAGE IN THIS SECTION OF STATE

The storm of sleet and snow did a considerable damage to telephone and telegraph lines in this section of Ohio Saturday and Sabbath. Power lines also suffered. The power line of the broadcasting station WSAI between Cincinnati and Mason, Ohio, went down under the load and put that station out of business for 24 hours.

HUMAN BARGAINS

Some people are always picking up bargains—genuine more than your money's worth bits of goods or property—while others again may search and search and when they do find something which they think is dirt cheap and has escaped the regular hunter's eye they learn too late that they have been deceived, and their bargain proves to be no bargain at all, but the biggest sort of a white elephant.

Did it ever occur to you that there are bargains in husbands and wives as well as in dress goods and household furnishings? Take, for instance, the plain, upright, but rather unprepossessing man of business, who plods along day in and day out not overburdened with sentiment, but with a high sense of his obligations to his wife and with a never ceasing desire to give her every comfort—is he not a much greater matrimonial bargain than the handsome, well-dressed, poetical creature who before marriage professes all sorts of devotion yet who soon finds time for but one kind and that is to himself? Ah, yes, the former is the all-wool-and-a-yard-wide sort, while the latter is very apt to fade in the hard rubbing of the world's washday.

Also with wives it is just the same. Very often the highly accomplished, attractive, social butterfly, beautiful to look upon, proves not one half as worthy as the plainer girl, who, not being beautiful, cultivates graces of mind and heart that wear well. One is the cheap, flimsy satin, from which the gloss disappears if put to real use; while the other is a well-woven serge, withstands the storms and comes out all the better and brighter for contact with rough weather.

It is well to be a human bargain hunter, for in many unbeat paths in many unfrequented ways, are living men and women who, if once brought out into the light of the great world, would show what they are made and be living examples of the old adage that "All is not gold that glitters."

WIDE ROADS NEEDED

There is a persistent call for wider roadways on the main lines of travel near important cities where traffic, already heavy, is increasing in volume rapidly. The idea has been under discussion for years, has been adopted in some places and with advantages to the traveling public. It may be expected in other busy places, as present paved roadways are not wide enough to handle with safety the traffic now moving.

Along the Lincoln Highway in several places in Pennsylvania, the paved surface is being widened to 40 feet and the same idea has been accepted at some places along the same highway in Indiana. Around Philadelphia the roadway is being widened to 55 feet, while the post road out of Boston is being improved and made 58 feet wide.

In Wisconsin and Illinois plans have been adopted for rapid transit thoroughfares between important cities and roads of a width hitherto unknown in this country are to be constructed. The plan favored in those states is to have four lane payments each 20 feet wide, with divisions so that travel in one lane will be prevented from cutting in on another and traffic will flow on without interruption.

In Ohio the principal highways must be widened during the coming years, as many are crowded now with wheel traffic and dangers will develop as the volume of business is increased. It is accepted by all traffic leaders that automobiles are certain to increase in numbers and the annual increase will be large. Cities must provide some wider streets, as main thoroughfares for handling through business, leaving the streets of ordinary width to care for miscellaneous traffic. The traffic engineering of the next few years will be directed in a large way to providing wider roads and streets. That improvement will be expensive, for state and city, but it is gradually being forced to the front by the developed needs. It will be made compulsory without long waiting.—Ohio State Journal.

MORE GASOLINE TAX

Reports indicate that a member of the legislature is to introduce a bill to increase the gasoline tax from two to three or four cents a gallon. As could be expected the lobby element is urging such an increase. It means more money for officials to send to purchase more road machinery for use on the roads.

There can be no sane argument offered in C. to that the gasoline tax should be increased one cent. If the member in charge of this proposed bill will use his efforts to get value received for the two-cent tax already paid, he will be doing a good service. It is the opinion of most persons that one million dollars each month of year is enough for reasonable road expenditures—if wisely spent.

The automobile has been easy prey for all kinds of tax levies. We have Federal tax when you purchase the car. You have personal property tax. You have license tag tax. You have gasoline tax.

The Federal Government has collected up to June 30, 1926, $1,100,865,983. You are told that the Federal aid given out of this tax is used for good roads. Up to the same date only $499,200,535 has been expended for road aid. The amount authorized for Federal aid is only $840,000,000. Automobile owners have reason to protest. The Federal tax is not all used for Federal aid.

Taxes, no matter in what form, are bearing heavier each year on all classes. The legislature cannot boost the gasoline tax without starting a real war. There is nearly a tax on each family in Ohio. The gasoline tax is paid by consumers of every commodity. It is part of the cost of road transportation. Most everything we eat and wear is handled by the motive power, the higher the commodity cost the retailer and then the consumer gets a boosted price.

You cannot tax joy riding without taxing every form of business that has use for gasoline for motive purposes.

Little Francis Kennon wishes to thank her many friends, who aided her in winning the beautiful doll at Frowant & Brown's.

FARM ORGANIZATIONS

For years the farmers have been old that they need is organization on a large scale to bring about co-operative marketing of their products. Secretary Jeddiah again urges such organization in his annual report. It is true this remedy would cure many ills now besetting the farmer. It is a hard thing to attain. It is hard to build any organization.

By the very nature of their occupation, the farmers are hampered in efforts at organizing. They do not form a compact group, as do the workers in a particular branch of industry. The farmer needs organizations for wheat growers, corn or fruit growers, as the case may be, all local, but under one directing organization. In this way their many problems would be solved. The farm organizations are not strong now because the movement is comparatively new. It requires years to prove to any one class that an organization is necessary.

There are hopeful signs that the farm organizations will become a powerful unit in directing affairs of direct interest to them.

Before many weeks a drive will be made in this and numerous other counties in Ohio for increasing the membership of the Farm Bureau. In Greene county such a drive should not be necessary but it evidently is and is going to be made. As a farmer you owe it to yourself to give aid to this organization by joining. "Don't be one of the ones that believes in getting the results by letting 'George do it.'"

YOUR BIRTHDAY Is It This Week?

If your birthday is this week you are coaxed and caressed, shrewd and calculating. You are accurate, methodical, careful, and took ahead. You are not impulsive, but reach decisions quickly. You are conscientious, reliable and loyal, and have a great amount of self-confidence, and great amount of real ability in many directions.

You are companionable, sociable, and generally very cheerful. You are generous and affectionate, but you are not demonstrative. You are original and artistic, and not terribly conventional. You are quite daring at times, in fact, and very often invite criticism by your actions.

Both men and women born during these dates have varied talents. They excel both in an artistic field and in a commercial field. The men become excellent business managers, executives, salesmen, brokers, lawyers, orators, writers, painters. The women become teachers, actresses, musicians, saleswomen, decorators, and office workers.

Gen. Anthony Wayne was born January 1st. Kipling, author, was born December 30.

Bible Verse and Prayer

NEW YEAR GREETING.—The Lord bless thee, and keep thee: The Lord make his face shine upon thee, and be gracious unto thee: The Lord lift up his countenance upon thee, and give thee peace. Numbers 6: 24, 25, 26.

PRAYER.—Great God, on this the first day of the New Year, we offer ourselves to Thee anew that we may be enabled in all this year to grow into Thy likeness.

ADDITIONAL LOCAL

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Hemmer of Lafayette, Ind., are guests at the home of Mrs. Hemmer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney A. Smith.

Floyd Hamilton, who was injured a week ago when his auto went over the embankment and dropped into a gorge at the Clinton cliffs, is reported much improved at the Springfield City Hospital. It is now believed that he will fully recover. First reports were that his neck had been broken.

Joseph Wendley, colored, a son of the late Charles Wendley, died at the University hospital in Columbus Monday following an operation for appendicitis. The deceased was 46 years of age and leaves a wife in Columbus, one brother Joseph, and four sisters, Misses Carrie, Mary, Millie and Ella. He was a member of the A. M. E. church. The funeral was held from the home yesterday afternoon.

The marriage of Miss Julia Harrison to Mr. David McClary, will take place Saturday afternoon, January 1st at 2 P. M., at the home of the bride north of town. The event will be witnessed by immediate relatives of the couple. Both are well known young people who have a large circle of friends.

The many friends of Miss Edna Graham remembered her with Christmas cards and kind letters Christmas day to lighten her stay as an invalid in Mt. Carmel hospital in Columbus, where she has been for twelve weeks. Miss Graham is reported much improved but it will yet be some time before she will be able to return to her home. In addition to the many cards and letters she received candy and flowers all of which are gratefully acknowledged. Her friends wish a speedy recovery to normal health.

Herald Wants Latest In Mechanical Composing Machines

The Herald takes pleasure in announcing a new Christmas gift—the addition of one of the most modern type-setting machines on the market. Some years ago the Herald installed a single magazine machine which has since been replaced Saturday with a Model 14 Linotype, having three standard magazines and one auxiliary. This mechanical marvel is speedily equipped with a complement of type faces which enables us to efficiently the large number of persons who look to our press for entertainment and enlightenment, and who patronize our printing department.

The regular increasing circulation of the Herald together with our desire to place at the command of our advertisers and others the highest grade of typography, induced us to add to our mechanical equipment a Linotype for the quick and accurate and pleasing presentation of the news of the week, and the production of superior job work.

Our new Linotype enables us to set by machine virtually all forms of composition that previously necessitated tedious work by hand. Our plant is now capable of turning out composition consisting of correct type faces in many different sizes, and the change from one size to another is made by a "twist of the wrist." In the flicker of an eyelash the versatile operator—whose hand is made famous by the Mcgregor Linotype Company as "the hand that keeps the world informed"—sets type of the following faces and sizes:

This installation is a testimonial to the prosperity of Cedarville and vicinity. And that the good people of the community are duly appreciative of our efforts to serve them in all departments of the printing business is manifested by the many compliments received from individual patrons since the arrival of our new machine. The accompanying illustration will give our readers some idea of the marvelous mechanism of the Linotype, a composing machine on which are assembled matrices (or little brass molds) and lines of type cast—lines such as you are now reading. The particular model of machine which we have just installed carries at one time four sets of matrices—controlled from a single keyboard of ninety keys—and gives the operator instant command of 568 different characters.

Besides enabling the operator to set various faces and sizes of type, our new Linotype makes it possible for him to produce the rules, dashes and borders which are used in various advertisements in each issue of our publication. When employed in the composing of advertisements, newspaper headings, booklets, catalogues, and various other kinds of printed matter, our new Model 14 enables one operator to set in the same time more type than ordinarily could be produced by five or six men or women doing the work by hand—and the composition is incomparably better.

While for a long time we have received the patronage of a host of subscribers, advertisers and printing buyers in general, we look forward to the handling of an even greater volume of business now that we are so well qualified to render the sort of service most to be desired.

It has been our aim to present the news of the week without fear or favor, and to reflect faithfully the ideals and ambitions of our constituents; and we shall continue to devote our talents and resources to the fulfilling of this aim.

Miss Esther Townsend, who teaches at Warren, O., is here for the holidays.

Prof. John Orr Stewart and family of Richmond, Ky., are spending the holiday vacation with the former's parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. O. Stewart.

Miss Florence Williamson of the State Normal Faculty, Bowling Green, O., is visiting relatives during the holiday vacation.

Miss Martha Cooley of Indiana, Pa., an instructor in the normal school in that city, is home for the Christmas vacation.

Mr. C. H. Gordon and wife and son, George, spent Christmas with Mr. Andrew Gordon and family below Washington C. H. Mr. Gordon reports an unusual accident to a neighbor of Andrew's when he was badly burned by electricity from a high power transmission line. The alert had broken down the line and a man had been taken to remove the poles but of poles and this unfortunate and line that he might get by. In the attempt he saw all but electrocuted. His hands were badly burned and a burn on the neck when a hot wire broke.

C. H. GORDON & SON,

Dr. Frank Crane Says
IT'S AN OLD JOKE, BUT TRUE
Some jokes, like a kitten, apparently have nine lives. Dressed in new clothes, they appear personally. Such a joke is the old gag about the small town sport who stood before an elite eating place at meal times chewing a toothpick to give the impression he had just dined within. Everyone laughs at the story, with perhaps softened malice, for to some extent he recognizes a kinsman with the hero. The genuine, sincere, unassuming man, who is content to appear what he is and nothing more, is the millionth man. What most people want is to be known as great rather than simply be great. Try this on yourself: If you were offered the chance to have all the power and greatness, as well as all the responsibility, work and abuse, of a president of the United States and have no one ever know you were president—never get credit for great acts if accomplished—would you accept? Is it not recognition and not just pure achievement the thing desired? Of course recognition is a part of it, but when it becomes the most important consideration, it assumes an evil influence. Not everyone who says he desires power and success really desires those things. They are synonymous with work, worry and responsibility. What those who say they want them to desire is the by-products of power and success, the toothpicks and not the meal. They want the yachts for trips to Palm Beach and also costly Packard limousines. To really eat you must pay; to chew a toothpick costs nothing. To really achieve costs work and self-denial; to seem to achieve (for a time) requires only a weak con science. Every "show-off" desires the results of achievement, but is unwilling to pay the price. He would rather chew the toothpick of fraud than eat the substance of paid-in-advance actuality. To seem to be, to all but the shrewdest eye, has all the attractions and none of the hardships of actual being. In Sunday School we used to sing: "This day the noise of battle; The next the Victor's song!" The noise of battle must precede the song of victory. The Royal Order of Toothpick Chewers try to reverse the sequence, and it can't be done.

W. L. CLEMANS,
Cedarville, Ohio.

This is the fifth of a series of articles that will appear each week in this newspaper dealing with Ohio's problem of increasing insanity. These articles are sponsored by the Ohio Association for the Welfare of the Mentally Sick, which has but one objective, namely, more scientific and more humane treatment of mentally sick patients in state hospitals and the rapid rehabilitation of these unfortunate.

Because of our old fallacious belief of "once insane, always insane," the non-medical side of institutions for the care of the mentally sick has been of greatest interest, and consequently the per capita cost price idea has provided in the minds of those who are responsible for the administration of the institution.

The per capita cost price of our various institutions varies considerably, depending upon size, location and farming facilities.

There are four important items entering into per capita cost price. First, that of salary and wages paid employees; second, that of food; third, that of general plant maintenance; and fourth, that of heat, light and water.

WHAT SURVEY SHOWS

A recent survey made of daily per capita expenses shows the following: California, $1.02; Michigan, $1.02; New York, $1.02; Massachusetts, $1.02; New Jersey, $1.02; Ohio, $1.02; Pennsylvania, $1.02; Virginia, $1.02; Washington, $1.02; Wisconsin, $1.02; Wyoming, $1.02.

When we consider that the average cost price per capita in the average general hospital is from $3.00 to $4.50 per day, we can readily appreciate how our assumptions are being conducted, so far as this one item is concerned.

The average per capita cost price of maintaining jails throughout the country is greater than that of our State institutions, for the care of the mentally sick.

What does a low per capita cost price mean? How does it reflect upon the patient personnel?

Mrs. Vance Burba entertained ten little boys Friday, December 24th, in the nature of a surprise in honor of Theodore's eighth birthday which was Dec. 24th. A two course dinner was served at six o'clock, after which each guest received a gift off of the Christmas tree. The favors were Christmas tree ornaments in form of a Santa Claus, balloons, airplane. A

ALSO INCLUDES PERSONNEL

As before stated, the per capita cost price includes personnel. To get so low a per capita cost price one must have very low paid personnel. A survey of our State institutions for the care of the mentally sick will show just what is being paid, and were it not so serious a matter it would be ludicrous. The superintendent's salary is set by law at $3,600 per year. That is, he receives $3,600 for the year he is superintendent and $3,600 the tenth year he is superintendent. No business could operate under such a system, for if he is not worth more than $3,600 at the end of ten years' service he should be relieved.

START AT $125 PER MONTH

The assistant physician starts in at $125 per month and maintenance. If you should ask your family doctor what he thinks of a salary, he would tell you that the man who has spent at least sixteen years of his life and $10,000 in obtaining the necessary education to be permitted to practice medicine would be displaying very poor judgment to accept a position that paid less than the average hotel-carrier receives.

Every State hospital in Ohio is provided with one trained nurse, who has under her protection the nursing care of from 1,000 to 2,500 patients. Those of you who are trained nurses will appreciate the difficulties of this trained nurse, who conscientiously tries to carry out the teaching course, has received in her training course, The chief nurse receives a salary of from $75 to $100 per month and maintenance.

Now comes the attendant personnel. Formerly they were called "guards." The name was changed because it sounded better. We average one attendant to every fifteen or twenty patients in our State hospitals of Ohio. These attendants start to work at $35 per month and maintenance for women and $45 a month and maintenance for men. After a period of two years their salaries are increased $10 per month.

THE CHRISTIAN A FOLLOWER OF JESUS

Lesson for January 3

THE CHRISTIAN A FOLLOWER OF JESUS

LESSON TEXT—Mark 1:10-13, 2:1-12

TOPIC—Learning from Jesus

JUNIOR TOPIC—Following with Jesus

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—What It Means to Follow Jesus

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Receiving Jesus as Saviour and Lord

1. Jesus Calls Four Men to Follow Him.

1. Who they were (vv. 10, 19).

Simon and Andrew, John and James, two sons of Zebedee. It is usually wise to engage in the Lord's service in fellowship—in pairs. This is not only necessary for effective testimony, but for needed fellowship on the part of workers and protection of the witnesses.

2. From what they were called (vv. 13, 20).

They were called from positions of definite service. God always chooses His servants from the ranks of the employed.

3. To what they were called (v. 17).

"To become fishers of men." These men no doubt had been successful as fishers. The qualities which made them good fishermen, namely, patience, bravery to face the storm at night and perseverance which led them to toil all night, though no fish were caught, would make them good fishers of men. Winning souls for Christ requires great patience, bravery and perseverance. Becoming fishers of men is the most important business in the world. It is the hardest work in the world to do.

4. The cost of obedience to Christ's call (vv. 18, 20).

Obedience to Christ's call meant sacrifice, painful separation, to give up all business interests and leave their father behind. Regardless of the cost they yielded prompt obedience. They put their trust in Him who called them, believing that He was able to supply all their needs.

5. Their reward (v. 27).

These four men have wielded wondrous influence in the world. Their names have become immortalized. Had they remained at their business they would only have been humble fishermen.

11. Matthew Becomes a Follower of Jesus (Mt. 2:13-17).

Matthew was a despised tax gatherer under the Roman government. For a Jew to fill such a position was to become unpopular. Since they regarded taxes paid to the Roman government as unlawful extortion, a number of their race engaging in the business of tax collection was to be exposed to shame and contempt.

1. Observe the abruptness of this call (v. 13).

While sitting at his place of business he heard the call of Jesus.

2. The definiteness of the call (v. 14).

It was to follow Jesus. To follow Jesus means to learn of Him and to engage in service for Him.

3. His instant decision (v. 14).

Matthew did not stop to reason on the question, but rendered definite and instant obedience. He openly gave up his business and identified himself with the Lord. Happy is the man who has the good judgment to instantly respond to the call of the Lord even though it may be costly. Matthew made a feast and invited many of his publican friends to meet his newly found Saviour. This had a twofold objective:

(1) An expression of grateful appreciation to the Lord for His saving grace.

(2) To bring his former friends and associates into touch with his newly found Saviour. It is natural for those who have found the Lord to desire to bring their friends into touch with Him.

III. Walking as Jesus Walked. The Supreme Test of Abiding in Him. (1 John 2:6).

Abiding in Christ means to have experienced the life of God in Christ, to have come into contact with Christ's personality and to be consciously living in fellowship with Him. Christ's oneness with the Father and His devotion to His will is the supreme and great example. Anyone who pretends to abide in Christ, who is not walking as He walked, is not entitled to the claim of Christian. The walk of the Christian implies the whole of his life. The reality of our profession is determined by the consistency of our walk.

"Ye Must Be Born Again"

Wesley, who, it is said, preached three hundred times from the words, "Ye must be born again," was asked, "Why do you preach so often?" "Ye must be born again," he answered, "ye must be born again!"—King's Business.

Forgiving

And he go kind to one another, tender-hearted, forgiving one another, even as God for Christ's sake hath forgiven you.—Paul.

Easier to Operate

It is paradoxical, but true, that as radio sets get more complex, delicate and precise, they are more easily operated. It took an engineer to run the early sets. David Sarnoff in the Saturday Evening Post.

Splendid Idea

Mosquitoes are said to be capable of flying a distance of a mile and a half and it would be a splendid idea if they did.—Detroit News.

WILL MARK BIRTHPLACE OF COATES KINNEY

A tablet to mark the birthplace of Coates Kinney, poet, soldier, attorney, journalist and school teacher, who was born 100 years ago last November 28, at Kinney's Corners, near Bluff Point, N. Y., will be erected there by the American Revolution of Penn Yan, N. Y.

Kinney, former Xenia, and one of this city's most distinguished sons, was perhaps best known for his poem, "Rain on the Roof," which was set to music and was widely popular 60 years ago. Stephen Kinney, the poet's grandfather, came with his son Giles to the Lake Keuka region, in New York, from Connecticut about 1815 and settled at the intersection of the highways that now lead to Bluff Point, Keuka College, Branchport and Penn Yan, N. Y. The elder Kinney, a veteran of the Revolution, later took part of his family to Ohio but Giles remained in New York until Coates, one of his 14 children, was 12 years of age, when he, too, moved west.

Coates was educated at Antioch college, Yellow Springs, and then studied law. For two years he was a state senator and later edited newspapers in Cincinnati, Springfield and Xenia. In the Civil War he won distinction as paymaster for the Union army, with the rank of major. One of the outstanding accomplishments of his military career was the shipment of $2,000,000 in gold from New York city to Cairo, Ill., for the pay of Union troops. Warned that such an enterprise involved great risks, he packed the coin in mail kegs and it reached its destination safely in freight cars.

After his return to civil life he was at the head of several schools, but his later years were devoted mainly to literature. His "Keuka and Other Poems" and "Lyrics of the Ideal and Real" were published in book form many years after "Rain on the Roof" became popular.

Coates Kinney died in 1904 at the age of 78.

L. S. CARPER DEAD

L. S. Carper, Ross township, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Anna Draper, in Jeffersonville, Monday night. He is survived by another daughter, Mrs. John Shane, of Ross township, a sister and three brothers, Mrs. Marcella Ballard, Hobart, Ind., E. T. Carper, Ross township; F. H. Carper, Van Wert, and J. M. Carper, Xenia.

HELD FOR FORGERY

Raymond Smith, 25, colored, formerly of this place but now a resident of Xenia, was taken in charge in that city Tuesday after trying to pass a forged check on C. A. Kelble, Xenia clothing. The check was for $10 on R. J. Watkins, Xenia. It is alleged that Smith has passed worthless other checks in Cedarville and Xenia.

Have the children's hair bobbed by Miss Zora Smith ready for the opening of school. Special attention is given to children and ladies at the Smith hairdressing parlor.

Mrs. Mary Harrison and Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Dean of Cleveland, are expected to spend the holiday week at home.

The public schools open Monday, and the college on Wednesday.
